

Interfaith Leadership Certificate (18 credits)

Having the vision, appreciative knowledge, and the skills to facilitate positive interactions among people who orient around religion differently is vitally important in a globalized, religiously complex world. This foundation, plus experience using this knowledge, vision, and skillset in community-based context, will also add value to any career that you seek. This certificate, which is open to USU Undergraduate Students in any program with at least a 2.5 GPA, has been carefully designed to give you both the tools and the experience to share authentically, engage respectfully, and to bridge religious difference in order to serve the common good. A grade of C or above must be obtained in each course that is counted for the certificate. Courses taken to fulfill one certificate program requirement may not be double counted to fulfill a second program requirement. No more than 9 credits that have been completed before the Required Foundations Course has been completed may be counted towards the certificate. The Practicum/Capstone experience requires instructor permission to enroll as well as successful completion of a multi-part portfolio that requires a) a negotiated learning contract/project proposal that is signed by the student, the instructor of record, and the site-supervisor, b) a minimum number of 45 contact hours over the 15 week semester as documented by a designated site-supervisor, c) a written project report (and an oral presentation of project findings to appropriate constituents, d) a reflection paper about the experience. Additional portfolio elements might include photos of events organized, newspaper clippings or digital news reports about the experience, etc. For more information about the Interfaith Leadership Certificate, contact Prof. Bonnie Glass-Coffin at bonnie.glasscoffin@usu.edu or call 435-797-4064 to schedule an appointment.
